GUNFIRE AND MASS ARRESTS MARK INTEGRATION EFFORTS IN TWO STATES IN THE SOUTH

By The Associated Press

Gunfire, suspension of a bus system, possible court action and mass arrests marked efforts to integrate seating of Negroes and white persons on city bus systems in two racially troubled Southern States.

Gunshots echoed last night in Montgomery, Ala., where city buses were integrated Friday under federal court order. A blast from a shotgun loaded with birdshot hit one bus; nine .22-caliber bullets slammed into another.

Night Club Dancer Misses Jackpot and Sues Quiz Program

New York (AP)—A night club dancer has filed a $103,000 suit in U. S. District Court against the television quiz program, "The Big Surprise," asserting he "deliberately" was asked a question the producers knew she couldn't answer.

Miss Dale Logue, a red-haired dancer now appearing in a Las Vegas, Nev., club, contended yesterday that she was cheated of a chance to win the show's $100,000 jackpot.

Miss Logue said she missed a $10,000 question on the program Nov. 6 after she first had missed it in a "warm-up session" that preceded the broadcast. Her category was astronomy.

Miss Logue contended in her suit that the "true purpose" of the warmup is to give the producers "a device by which they could eliminate any contestant" by asking questions before the show until they find one the contestant can't answer. She said they then use the same question on the program and eliminate the contestant.

The question Miss Logue missed, Carlin said, was "written a considerable period of time before Miss Logue appeared on the show." Carlin said the warmups are used to calm down and orient contestants by getting them to discuss their subjects "in a most general way."

Carlin added that if a warmup session touched on a question asked later in the show "it would be coincidental."

Miss Logue asked for a court directive restoring her as a contestant on the program as an alternative to the $103,000 damages.

Bad Brakes Blamed For Fatal Accident In Centre County

Belleville (AP)—Faulty brakes were believed responsible for a three-car smashup in rural Centre county that took the lives of a Lancaster couple and injured four persons including two Catholic sisters.

State police of the Pleasant Gap barracks said "apparently" a brake difficulty on a car driven by Paul Snaveley Spring Mill R.D. 1, caused the collision yesterday about two miles south of Centre Hall on Route 53.

Killed were Allen F. Rebman, 39, and his wife, Lorraine, 37, who were riding in the front seat of a car that collided with Snaveley's. Trooper Paul V. Dornier said the Rebman car entered the highway from a crossroad, spun the Rebman car around completely and hurled it into the southbound auto of William S. Mickely, Pleasant Gap. The Rebman car was demolished.

Expect Canal Clearance Will Start At Once

By WILTON WYNN
Cairo (AP)—Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler announced today the Egyptian government has agreed the U. N. salvage fleet can begin clearing the southern end of the Suez Canal immediately.

Cairo newspapers said Egyptian technicians already had started clearing channels at Ismailia, the canal midpoint, and Suez, its southern terminus, "preparatory to conducting research about sunken ships." But this obviously referred only to the clearing of mines from the channel, begun by the Egyptians earlier this week.

A British ship and two French vessels are continuing salvage operations in the Port Said harbor, the canal's northern entrance. This work was begun by the British Occupation force, which also cleared a channel through the northern third of the canal to El Cap.

Wheeler's statement did not make clear what salvage ships would be used in the operation around Suez. His statement was released by the U. N. information office in Cairo.

A spokesman for the Egyptian Canal Authority said the U. N. announcement had not yet been confirmed by Mahmoud Yanes, canal authority director.

Salary Increases Main Topic Before Teachers' Meeting

By BOB HOLTON
Harrisburg (AP)—Representatives of Pennsylvania's 60,000 organized school teachers came here for their 104th annual convention—a three-day parley with demands for salary increases a major topic of discussion.

The 850 delegates tomorrow will be asked to approve a legislative committee recommendation for pay boosts that could cost the commonwealth as much as $1 million dollars in the next two years.

ARE REPRESENTING LOCAL INSTRUCTORS
James Cable, Conewago avenue extension, is in Harrisburg to attend the Pennsylvania State Education Association convention as president of the Northwest Convention District. Others expected to be in attendance are Mrs. Marshall Morrow, who heads the classroom teacher section of the NW District, and Thomas Barrett, assistant principal at Beatty Junior High and representative of Warren Education Association.

The legislative committee of the State Education Assn. has approved a plan seeking $100 permanent pay increases in both the 1957-58 and 1958-59 school years.

Today's activities dealt with registration and addresses on various facets of the profession by some of the country's leading educators, Committee reports and nomination of officers will highlight tonight's dinner session.

Red Police Reported Planted With Refugees

Camp Kilmer, N. J. (AP)—An Army spokesman said today that Hungarian Reds may try to plant secret police among refugees coming to America but that government agencies are alert to the possibility.

The statement came on the heels of a published report that Hungarian refugees already had seen a Hungarian secret policeman at a camp here and at other camps in Austria.

There have been rumors among refugees here for several days that at least one secret policeman had entered Camp Kilmer, but newsmen have had difficulty pinning down the information.

Forest Fire On Coast Raging Out of Control

Malibu, Calif. (AP)—A gale-whipped brush and timber fire raged with new fury today as two more spots broke out and the perimeter increased to 22 miles.

The fire, burning for the second day in a scenic area extending from the Pacific Ocean inland to the Santa Monica Mountains, has now consumed more than 20,000 acres. A number of substantial homes have been destroyed and one man has died.

Winds up to 50 miles per hour harassed the fire crews at the lower levels and those higher up reported they were all but helpless in the face of gusts which frequently reached 70 to 80 m.p.h.

The new spots appeared in the early morning hours. One raced down Corral Canyon to U.S. Highway 101, on the east. The other broke out in Sequit Canyon on the west, first burning to the ocean, then skittering back to the mouth of the canyon and flaming north.

The stricken area, dotted with expensive homes, beach cottages, large and small trailers and ranches, is located where the coastline runs east and west. It is 35 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles.

Los Angeles County Fire Chief Keith Klingner estimated that at least 27 homes have been destroyed.

An uncounted number of small outbuildings also were consumed. Frightened deer, rabbits and coyotes fled from the mountainside and many perished.

Several hundred families were evacuated as flames roared down one canyon after another. Many returned, however, after the flames passed through their particular area, leaving nothing more to burn.

The fire jumped the Pacific Coast Highway in several places, closing the artery to traffic.

Chief Klingner and his aides have approximately 1,000 men in the battle. The Red Cross set up evacuation centers. The Salvation Army set out mobile canteens.

Medical help was sent from Los Angeles emergency hospitals to aid in treatment of dozens of fire fighters suffering from burns or smoke inhalation.

Known fatality was Frank L. Dichover Jr., 32, Zuma Beach, found dead with a broken leg in his wrecked automobile. He had sent his family to safety, then had attempted to save his house when a wall of flame caught him.

Women To Man Teletype Machines in Harrisburg

The commissioner said he also plans to increase the number of women switchboard operators in the department.

Campaign for Hungarian Relief Reaches $1,466
To the great satisfaction of all concerned, the Hungarian Relief Fund being solicited by Warren County Red Cross Chapter continues to climb steadily as the grand total at noon today stands at $1,466.55.

Many interesting little incidents have come to light in connection with the contributions received: School children have given money that might otherwise have been used for gifts; a dance club and girls at Warren Public Library brought cash gifts instead of the customary exchange of presents; classes and clubs have voted to aid the cause.

Among the latest in this list category is the Spinnier Class of First Presbyterian church, which raised $27, and had a $25 gift from a class member to make a total of $52.

$2,000,000 Catalytic Cracking Unit of United Refining Company Is Rapidly Nearing Completion

A Spring completion date has been set for United Refinery's new "cat-cracker" costing $2,000,000, a sum believed by company officials to be the largest single capital outlay in the history of Warren County. The "cracker" is the latest in a series of multi-million dollar expansions and modernizations being carried on by United since World War II. More than 100 men are rushing the project to completion. Schuykill Papers Are Hiking Prices 2 Cents

Pottsville (AP)—Schuykill county's five evening newspapers will cost two cents more a copy beginning next Monday.

The raise in price is from five to seven cents per single copy, and from 30 cents to 42 cents for weekly subscriptions. Readers learned of the hike in yesterday's editions of the papers—the Pottsville Republican, Shenandoah Herald, Ashland News, Mahanoy City Record-American, and Tamaqua Courier.

The publishers, all members of the Schuykill County Publishers Assn., list rising costs in labor, newsprint and other typical trade overhead as reasons for the higher price. The last joint price raise was in 1948, when all jumped from four to five cents per copy.

Annual Warning Is Issued By Borough And State Police

State and local police, though holding their breath as icy conditions glaze area highways, spoke in glowing terms today of the safe driving in Warren County so far during the holidays.

No vehicle mishaps have been reported anywhere since a little Christmas cheer brought on a pair Saturday. But with light snow and ice keeping out a full highway crew most of the night, best guess was that the county luck could not hold much longer when a nation's collective carelessness snuffed more than 700 lives over Christmas alone. Borough and state police have also been busy during today.

Four fatalities have already been reported in Warren to date this year, as against none for 1955. Two of the fatal accidents this year involved pedestrians struck by cars and the third saw a bicycle rider die of injuries.

Elsewhere in the county, state troopers have investigated ten fatalities during 1956. This compares with 12 in 1955 and only 8 in 1954. Total Warren County automobile fatalities in 1956 amount to 14, so far.

Both state and local police have stated that their round-the-clock New Year's Eve vigil will begin at dusk on Monday, Dec. 31, 1956 and continue until the dawn of 1957.

Parking will be allowed as usual (Turn to Page Fourteen)

United Refining Company of Warren is rushing to completion its $2,000,000 catalytic cracking unit which will produce blending stocks to be used in the production of high octane gasoline to meet the requirements of the automotive engines of the near future. This new super octane gasoline will be available to the motorists of Northwest Pennsylvania and Western New York State through the Emblem Oil Company's "KEYSTONE" service stations in the spring of next year. Emblem Oil Company is marketing subsidiary of United Refining Company.

It is believed the $2,000,000 capital outlay for the construction of the new cat-cracker is the largest ever invested at one time in the history of Warren County in industrial facilities.

The cat-cracker represents the latest development in United's multi-million dollar post-war modernization and expansion program which has enabled the company to maintain its traditional position of quality leadership throughout this period of rapid advancements in automotive engines. As engines have been improved and horsepower increased and the demand for premium gasolines with higher octanes has grown, United Refining Company through this program has kept one step ahead of this demand for premium fuels and has consistently supplied area motorists with highest quality gasoline possible with the latest in refining methods. With the completion of this new unit the local refinery will be the most modern plant in this section of the country.

Procon, Inc., an engineering and contracting firm specializing in the construction of petroleum refining facilities, currently has over 100 workers busy on the construction of this latest addition to United's facilities. Construction is progressing rapidly on the unit which is being built on the site of the old Riverside Acid Works, located on the banks of the Allegheny River in Warren.

The basic function of the cat-cracker, which derives its name from the actual operation involving the cracking of heavy petroleum molecules through the medium of heat over a moving bed of catalyst, is to convert heavy fuel oil type materials into lighter high octane gasoline products for use as blending agents in the production of high quality motor fuels.

SENATORS TO HOLD CAUCUS AT HERSHEY

Hershey (AP)—Sen. Mahany (Crawford) was re-elected today for a third term as Republican floor leader of the State Senate in the 1957 session of the Legislature.

The action was unanimous after Sen. Berger (Potters) failed to muster sufficient votes on a show of hands in the closed caucus of the 27 GOP senators.

The caucus was described as all harmony and peace as it broke up.

The senators came up with this slate, in addition to Mahany: Sen. Pechan (Armstrong), for a second term as assistant floor leader.

Berger, for a third term as chairman of the Republican Senate caucus. Sen. Kessler (Lancaster), for caucus secretary. Former Sen. Dism (Lancaster), for Senate chief clerk at $8,200.

Former Sen. Lutzler (Clearfield), for Senate secretary at $9,000.

Hershey (AP)—Senate Republicans appeared ready today to re-elect Sen. Mahany (Crawford) as the GOP floor leader in the 1957 session of the Legislature, opening Jan. 1.

However, Sen. Berger (Potters) said he was still in the race for the post as the 27 Republican senators went into closed caucus to complete selection of leaders for the session.

A survey of some of the influential GOP senators, as the caucus opened, seemed to indicate that Mahany had sufficient votes to assure his election although no one would say so flatly.

Republican State Chairman Bloom, who attended the meeting, said he expected the proceedings would be conducted "without (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Prices Going Up For Stamped Envelopes

Washington, (AP)—The Post Office Department today announced it will advance prices for stamped envelopes by an average 18 per cent, effective Jan. 1.

The increase is on the envelope alone. The price of the printed postage, fixed by law, remains the same.

The change principally affects large-quantity users. Purchases of a single stamped envelope will continue to pay the printed postage plus one cent. At present, those buying as many as 25 stamped envelopes receive a slight discount. In the future, it will be necessary to buy at least 50 envelopes to get the discount.

The department said the price increases were made necessary by higher costs since September, 1955.

and agreed to remain until terms of a new contract had been arranged or until the first of 1957.

Many reliable sources have stated that in all probability the interim pathologist will be shaken loose part time from his duties in Jamestown.

Also at the Board meeting this afternoon, Dr. John R. McGibson is expected to give his final report after surveying the need for additional hospital beds at Warren General.

The distinguished doctor, who is head of Pittsburgh University School of Public Health, is expected to include in his report some definite recommendations as to how the now-vacant space in the old maternity building may best be utilized.

However, no definite action on his proposals is expected until Board members have had time to study fully the survey findings.

Lightning Flash Could Have Sparked the Start of Life On Earth Scientist Declares

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
New York (AP) — Lightning flashing through deadly gases of an eerie world could have sparked the beginning of life on earth, a scientist has reported.

The dazzling electric bolts could have created complex chemicals from the gases. From these new-born chemicals came living matter.

This theory and experiments to support it were described in a speech prepared for an opening session of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Some of the latest scientific guesses about how life began were presented at a conference held by the association and the New York Academy of Science.

Scientists generally think life began in the salty oceans. Somehow, organic or living chemicals were formed out of inorganic or nonliving chemicals.

Some scientists, among them Nobel prize winner Dr. Harold

E. Yeager, Jr., and Leo L. Glesse, Urey, Chicago, have proposed that our primitive earth had an atmosphere of poisonous gases such as methane and ammonia, plus water and hydrogen. Lightning might have created the reaction which produced the chemicals for life to begin.

Testing this, Dr. Stanley L. Miller, biochemist of Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons, exposed just such a mixture of gases to a series of electric discharges for one week.

The man-made "lightning" created some amino acids, the building blocks that make up proteins such as flesh, nerve and hair. Nine amino acids were formed from the gases.

Dr. Miller said it appeared that the reactive organic compounds were formed by lightning and by ultraviolet light in the atmosphere. Rains carried them down into the oceans, where they reacted to form amino acids and other complex organic compounds.

Such reactions "would give a great many of the compounds that are components of present living organisms," he said.

Supermarkets Offering Meats To Replace Left-Over Turkey As Main Dish Over the Weekend

Tired of eating turkey?

If you are, you'll be glad to know several other meats will be featured at the meat counters of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week-end.

Ham, a top favorite for New Year's Day in recent years, will be prominently displayed, at attractive prices, in many stores. Both smoked and fresh hams are included. Canned hams, convenient for entertaining, also will be specials in some places.

Leg of lamb is scheduled for feature treatment, too. So are steak, chickens, corn beef and, in some places, geese and duck. Chicken prices are down 2 to 10 cents and pork up 6 to 12 cents in scattered sections. Some places had eggs down 2 or 3 cents.

Some supermarkets will have a special on turkeys again, however, apparently on the theory that some families may have missed out on the bird at Christmas. Prices are about the same as last week, which means 4 or 5 cents a pound under 1955.

Gobbler prices should be low again next year, incidentally, for the Department of Agriculture expects turkey production to exceed 1955's record crop.

For vegetables, the department says acreage planted for fresh market vegetables is expected to be about the same in 1957 as this year. Supplies of both canned and frozen, though, are expected to be materially larger than a year earlier into mid-1957, the end of the current marketing year.

For this week, however, prices of most vegetables were reported about the same as last week in most areas. This means that potatoes, onions and cabbage again will be the best buys.

Department of Agriculture experts look for supplies of potatoes to be considerably larger this winter and into spring, because the important fall crop tops the previous year by almost 13 per cent. They also expect larger supplies from the winter crop, although this is less of a factor than storage supplies from the big fall crop, because Florida and California growers intend planting one-third more acreage than last year this winter.

Onions, too, should be more plentiful than last year through mid-winter. During the late winter-early spring period, however, supplies will probably be smaller than in 1955.

The bear, said the officer, just ambled off into the hills.

SNOW AT BUFFALO

An Associated Press dispatch says a surprise winter storm during the night dumped nine inches of snow on the Buffalo area. A report from Pittsburgh says snow fell over most of Western Pennsylvania early today, piling up 2 to 4 inches in some sections. The fall caught many motorists by surprise since only snow flurries had been forecast. Downtown streets in Pittsburgh were slushy but suburban roads were heavily covered. The weather bureau said the fall would accumulate up to six inches in some areas.

COUNTY BOY HURT

Elmer Welch, 19, of Sugar Grove, was treated at WCA Hospital for bruised ribs after the car he was driving was struck by a second vehicle in Jamestown about 4:45 p. m. Wednesday. Welch was thrown from his car when it was hit broadside by a car driven by Myra A. Moorhead, 60, of Sherman. Police said the Moorhead vehicle was being driven on Prather Avenue after stopping for a stop sign when it hit the Welch car, going north on Barrett Avenue. The Welch car was driven into a telephone pole at the northeast corner of the intersection and Welch was thrown from the car. Welch's 1954 model sedan, totally wrecked, was towed from the scene. The right front of the Moorhead car was damaged.

Vanderhoof was backing out of a driveway onto the highway, police stated, when he saw the Edwards car approaching. However, he was unable to pull back out of the way in time to avoid a collision. The loss to Vanderhoof's pickup truck was set at $100 while damage to Edwards' car was set at $500. Neither driver was injured. Following the impact Edwards' car clipped a utility pole, causing $100 damage to it.

METHODIST HOME NOTES

Margaret H. McBride

Christmas and its resultant confusion and rush is over, and homes everywhere are crowded with all sorts of gifts, some practical, some misguided—nearly all a product of what might be termed "the Economy of Obsolescence". This was the name given by one thinker, who tells me the present day system of the designers is to plan so that things will wear out, in order to keep the market for new gadgets undisturbed! What a change from the thriftiness of our forebears, whose proudest boast was that "it would last a lifetime!" Undenably too we today can still point with pride to our "antiques".

Our annual Christmas party was held on Saturday night in order to free all the staff for their own homes on Christmas night. Every one was given two gifts, and plenty of candy on the side. The program was given by the Nurses' staff, and got a lot of well-deserved applause from the big audience, almost doubled by the members of our staff and their families. All the little folks were remembered too. Mrs. Mary Burns acted as accompanist, a group of nurses gave several songs, and Mrs. Burns' two little grandchildren sang a lovely selection.

Our folks have been coming and going all week with their gifts, and our usual splendid Christmas dinner was served. My own son Herbert came Saturday, laden as always, with fruit and gifts, and the same is true of many of our members' kin folks. Mrs. Emma Shumaker was happy with a visit on Monday of last week from her son, Rev. Ernest and Mrs. Shumaker, from Punxsutawney, while on Sunday her son Robert from Blairsville also dined with her here. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson came over Saturday evening from Springboro to visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ray and Miss M. Lou Ray. Mrs. Curtis is Mr. Ray's daughter, and Mrs. Johnson his grand-daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Robinson from Vernon Township were other guests of the Rays.

Miss Harriet Koch had callers from Springboro too, last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hadsell, and Mrs. Dora Blystone's grandson and his wife from the same town. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, came in for a brief visit. They live in Springboro, though he is teaching music in the Conneautville High School. Mrs. Ray Woodcock from Cochran was another visitor to Mrs. Blystone on Sunday.

Lloyd and Mary Mornewick from Clark came last Sunday to see his mother, Mrs. Alice Mornewick, and last week, cousins of hers from Greenville, Mrs. Harry Hoffacker with her daughter, Mrs. Flora McCarthy, came over and brought another daughter, from Salt Lake City, Mrs. Thelma Grouver, who is with her parents for the holidays. Thursday guests were cousins of Mrs. Loda Hutchins, Mrs. Alice Johnson and Miss Clara Sherrywood, from Union City, who called on another friend, Aunt Rose Thompson as well. Aunt Rose greeted many good friends during the week, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Johnston not only bringing the two, but Mrs. Treva Machesney. They came as Santa's special delegation to his Union City group here, and when the visitors were gone, the many gifts scattered about made it look as if Santa himself had been here.

Miss Rebecca Young from Oil City, who has a number of friends here from that same area, came last week as a roommate of Mrs. Margaret Flickinger. Saturday, we greeted three of our former nurses, Mrs. Reba Lowe, Miss Ethel Peck, and Mrs. Nora Ettinger, who came over to wish us a Merry Christmas. Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. George Harrow were the latter's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garber from Sanford's Corners. Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Barlett too, had visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morrison, Mrs. Belle Dixon and Miss Alta Hoffmaster, from Edenburg, who later went in to see Mr. Clarence McConnell. Sunday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. George Braun were their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Braun, of Clarion. Misses Olive and Myra Oakes spent some time with Aunt Rose Thompson the same afternoon, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Schultz, Betty and Jack Schultz came over from Grove City to see Mrs. Anna Schultz. Mrs. Helen Stead was surprised by an unexpected visit from her niece, Mrs. Donald Boyer, from Cranberry, and her son Paul and his wife. Mrs. Bessie Goodell spent the weekend with her niece, Mrs. Ralph Tidmarsh, in Waterford, and Mrs. Nancy Kahle left Friday for a two weeks' visit with her family over the holiday, in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Grace Muschler is spending Christmas with her son in Meadville, but had a lot of company Sunday before she left. They included her grandson, Harold Michler from Middletown, Mrs. Joe Miller of Woodcock Boro, and Mrs. Arthur Batchler of Meadville. Others were Ralph Michler, his wife and son James, with his wife and son Danny Lee, also Miss Janice Muschler, who is home from Mansfield S. T. College with her parents at Franklin Center.

County Directors Launch a Move To Hold Down Size of Regional School Service Area

A move to hold down the size of the Regional School Service Area in this district has been made by Warren County Board of School Directors.

While a several county area for this district had been mentioned, the directors in a meeting on Dec. 26 unanimously resolved "that the local regional area include Warren and Forest Counties only" to avoid unreasonably large geographical areas.

The full motion adopted by the directors is:

WHEREAS, in accordance with provisions of Act 650 of the Pennsylvania School Code a bill to establish Regional School Service Areas will be presented by the Governor of Pennsylvania not later than March 1, 1957, and

WHEREAS, a tentative draft of such bill first distributed in November, 1956, already has been rewritten and will continue to be revised prior to its introduction, and

WHEREAS, the Warren County Board of School Directors is desirous of improving the educational opportunities of all children, youth and adults within the financial ability of every local district and within the framework of local control,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Warren County Board of School Directors postpone action supporting or opposing said bill until after it has been introduced in final form, however

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this board recommend the following changes in the proposed bill:

1. (a) That the criteria for the delineation of regional areas be subject to a sparsity factor to avoid unreasonably large geographical areas, and

(b) that the local regional area

patient and could be summed up by the statement: "It's mental health, not mental illness, that's catching." Several patients whose first "outjob" was with the Morgans are now mentally rehabilitated. The children are taught how to react to each individual patient with which they come in contact at home. Photo by George Zimbel, Redbook photographer.

1955-56 Cancellations Differ By Scant 732 Despite Near Million Volume Each Holiday

Total Christmas-mail volume at the Warren Post Office this year was only slightly above the 1955 record. Cancellations this year, through the 24th, were 931,887 as compared with 931,255 in 1955 for the same period, it was revealed in a statement issued today by the Postmaster, who had this to say:

"However, results of the Early Mailing campaign waged by Post Office, and made possible through the cooperation of the Times-Mirror and Radio were most gratifying. They were most noticeable in package mailing, of course, although greeting card cancellations also showed great improvement in this respect with $49,000 cancelled by the 20th as compared with only 700,000 on the same date last year.

"Incidentally it was erroneously reported, last week, that both Dec. 17th and 18th set new records for cancellations at the Warren office. The two-day total of 218,705 set a new record for two consecutive days but there have been many single-days in past years with greater cancellations, another indication of the helpful leveling-out of the load by early mailing.

"These two extra-heavy days resulted in excessive delay of delivery of local mail, especially third class cards, in some instances but by the 21st all deliveries were back to normal and it is believed no serious inconvenience was suffered. Parcel post deliveries were kept current throughout the pre-Christmas rush and the bins were bare of all except undelivered parcels on Christmas Day.

"For the first time in many years at least, and some old-timers say for the first time ever, practically all of the regular postal employees were able to enjoy a real Christmas Holiday, thanks to your cooperation in mailing early."

Two New Bridges Will Straighten Part of Route 666

Work is expected to get underway shortly after the first of the year on two concrete bridges over Tionesta and South Tionesta Creeks in Warren County along Legislative Route 666 angling south from Barnes.

Warren County Highway Superintendent Chester Walker said today that a $230,770 contract for the two spans has been awarded Charles A. Imel & Son of Clarion.

When completed the new bridges will eliminate two dangerous S-curves now leading to and from present narrow steel spans. One of the bridges will eliminate the bad crossing at Henrys Mills. The other will be approximately 2,000 feet to the south.

Superintendent Walker said his office has yet to be informed of state prospects for shoring up the railings of Youngsville overhead or date when repairs will start on flooring of Irvine Bridge.

AUTOMATION OF THE FUTURE

Automation is spreading fast from the factory to the kitchen, reminds Sam Dawson, Associated Press feature writer in his "Business Mirror" column today. He describes it this way:

Mechanization we have long had with us. This is mechanical action served by a power source but guided or controlled by human brains and hands. Example: The electric washer that has to be turned on and off.

To mechanization automation adds guidance and control supplied by additional inanimate units built into the machine itself. Example: The automatic clothes washer.

Automation also often includes the ability to check automatically against mistakes and to apply past experience to future action. Example: The computers used in many offices.

Automated food preparation equipment run by punched cards may be built into tomorrow's kitchens. A punched card recipe would command the movements now performed by the cook. Scientists see the day when punched cards will tell the homemaker what food to order based on the machine's "memory" of what the family likes, how much is thrown away and what quantity of any type of food is consumed over a given period.

From the factory, perhaps, could come an automatic kitchen mixer like the Fairbanks-Morse scales that automatically dole out and measure industrial materials to be mixed.

Automation may be coming fast these days to the office and the home, but it's no new thing to American industry.

In 1778 Oliver Evans built an automatic flour mill in a Philadelphia suburb. The wheat was fed in on the ground level, taken by several types of mechanical conveyors to the top floor and then processed automatically step by step from floor to floor, until the finished flour was bagged and stacked for shipment. Waterpower furnished the umph and all the work was done automatically.

ABLE REPRESENTATIVES

From the Franklin News-Herald: This paper extends sincerest holiday greetings to two of our hard-working legislators, recently re-elected to office—Congressman Leon H. Gavin, Oil City, and Rep. Harry S. Gramlich, of Franklin. Their conscientious consideration of all important matters is a source of satisfaction to all in this section.

They have long since proved their abilities and are so closely in touch with what the majority of voters desire that our faith in them has constantly grown.

Few congressmen so early provided a clear-cut picture of European conditions, as well as matters in the Pacific area, as Congressman Gavin. Other members of the House would do well to listen to his recommendations. He becomes the third ranking member of the vitally important House Armed Services Committee. In the long run, that means much to American taxpayers.

Rep. Gramlich's able handling and support of state matters is well-known. A more favorable atmosphere will prevail in Harrisburg early in 1957 with Republicans having a desired "edge" in the House... and not being ham-strung before legislation even reaches the floor.

And in the State Senate, we have the constructive experience of Dr. Leroy Chapman, of Warren, who has been a forthright advocate of all that is beneficial for the state. Incidentally, he is expert in the consideration of matters affecting those of retirement age, whose number constantly is growing.

Special congratulations are extended parents of three babies that arrived at Warren General Hospital maternity ward Christmas day — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wolfe, Warren, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Luther, Youngsville, daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. George Fill, RD 2, Pittsfield, a boy. The next big question mark—who will be the lucky family to have the New Year's baby next Tuesday?

Here and There

Because he is a former Erie boy, and as a Scout chosen to accompany Admiral Byrd on his first expedition to the South Pole in 1928-30, he appeared on a number of programs in Warren, there is much interest locally in the picture of Antarctic Explorer Paul Allman Siple that appears on the front cover of the current issue of the weekly news magazine "Time". The article accompanying a picture of Beardmore Glacier and peaks guarding the approach to the South Pole, has this reference to Scientist Byrd: "As the Seabees worked, a bulky figure in mohair-lined parka, Byrd cloth coveralls and heavy boots moved among them carefully, almost instinctively checking every construction detail. For no man knows better than Paul Allman Siple that the antarctic tolerates few mistakes, permits even fewer second chances. At 48, Paul Siple (rhymes with discipline has spent more time on the continent than any other person. He came there first as an eager, wide-eyed Sea Scout with the Byrd expedition of 1928-30, when he leaves it for the sixth time, in February 1956, some 5 1/2 years of polar life will lie behind him. A ponderous, thick-girthed giant (6 feet one inch, 250 pounds) Siple moves inexhaustibly from job to job at the remote and lonely Pole station. As the camp's scientific leader, he saw to it that each of the items among the 450 tons of supplies parachuted from Air Force and Navy transports was retrieved, catalogued and stored. If the parachutes failed, the gear had to be dug out from beneath as much as 15 feet of snow and ice. The camps huts were put on stilts; on the surface they would become uncomfortably humid as their radiated heat melted the snow beneath them. Oil stoves had to be checked; properly installed, they are the antarctic's greatest comfort, but explosions can bring fiery death, and carbon monoxide, silent extinction. To the camp's double-domed science building Siple gave his most loving attention. Painstakingly he made certain that only copper and brass nails were used to hold the frame together (steel would interfere with magnetic readings). Cautious soda and aluminum chips to make hydrogen gas for meteorological balloons were carefully stored so that they would be convenient in winter's long dark. The subterranean ice cellar for the seismographs was laid out so that the vibration of tractor and Weasel (the antarctic jeep) would not be confused with the vibration of distant earthquake."

Twin girls born between midnight and noon New Year's Day will receive something better than the proverbial "silver spoon". As winners in the Ninth Annual Toni Twin Baby Derby, each qualifying twosome will be awarded $500 in gifts. Lucky twin girls who beat the deadline will receive a year's supply of Gerber's baby food. Trundle Bundle infants wear, a special selection of Love dresses.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD L. CONFER

At 6:45 p. m. Friday, December 21, in First Baptist church, the Rev. G. Forrest Sparks performed a double ring ceremony to unite in marriage Ruth Deane Morell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Morell of 202 Seneca avenue, and Edward L. Confer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Confer, 22 Broad street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of pink wool jersey, accented with satin and tiny lace ruffles. With it, she wore pink accessories and a corsage of white roses.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Confer of Kane wore light blue tulle, with pearl and rhinestone trim, black accessories and white rose corsage.

Mr. Confer, of Kane, served as his brother's best man.

Wearing corsages of white carnations, the bride's mother chose black accessories with an aqua knit suit, and Mrs. Confer selected a light blue knit suit with contrasting navy accessories.

The reception followed at 7:30 p. m. at the bride's home, with a guest list of 30. Appointments featured a centerpiece of pom poms and Christmas decorations.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Neville R. Jantz, Phoenix, Ariz.; Ray Sorensen and son, and Ann Melchor, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Confer, Kane.

Following a wedding trip to Buffalo, the couple returned December 26 to Washington, D. C., where

Mr. Confer is serving with the Marine Corps. The bride was graduated in 1955 from Warren High and was formerly employed by Warren Bank and Trust Company. Mr. Confer was a 1954 graduate of WHS. Hostesses who honored the bride-elect were Mrs. Elmer Ploss, Gail Dorsey, girls at the bank, and the bride's mother.

Highway Employees Have Initial Christmas Party

There were 106 children of Warren county highway department employees treated Saturday, when the organization's first Christmas party for the entire family was given.

Santa passed out a little last-minute advice, along with coloring books, crayons, apples, tangerines, candy canes, balloons and soft drinks. Parents received coffee and doughnuts.

Highway Superintendent Chester Walker praised the office girls who worked evenings to gift wrap all the presents for the children. Providing the extra effort were Mrs. Ethel Johnson, Mrs. Betty Weaver, Mrs. Betty Johnson, Mrs. Margaret Froman, Mrs. Anna Monroe and Mrs. Laura Schenck.

Special thanks also went to Assistant Superintendents Kenneth Ellis and Gifford Quiggle, along with garage foreman Robert Cramer, all of whom made necessary party arrangements.

Merle Fleming donated the tree, trimmed and placed in the office of the highway department building at Starbuck, where the party was held.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT WHITE HOUSE INN

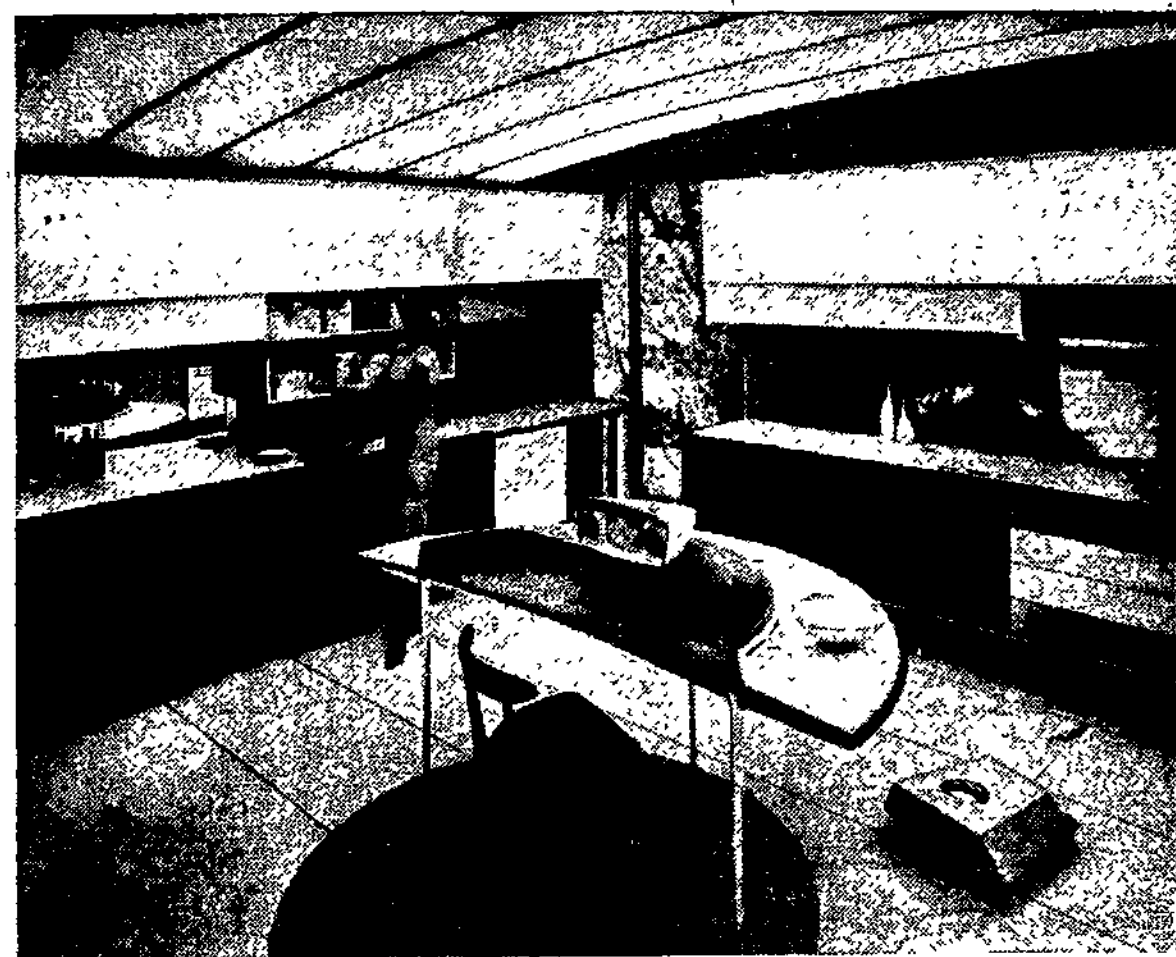

Dennis DiPietro was host to his employees and their wives for the annual Christmas party on Saturday evening. Gifts were exchanged and a buffet lunch was provided by Mrs. DiPietro. A good time was had by all.

'Miracle' Kitchen Is Based on Practical and Tested Principles and Devices

Heart of the "miracle" kitchen which will tour the nation during 1957 is the control center in foreground of picture. TV screen can be used to monitor other rooms in home or to receive commercial television programs. Wide, white rim embracing control panel is really an electronic stove. Unlike set in its surface cook foods in special utensils without appreciable heat. At far left is cold beverage unit. At left center are dry storage cabinets which pull down from overhead position. In right background are refrigerated drawers and cabinets and vegetable preparation sink. Gadget on floor at right is a robot scrubbing-vacuuming device.

BY KAY SHERWOOD, NEA Staff Writer

Do you ever mutter to yourself that you're just a slave and a drudge in the kitchen? Well, in 1957 you'll get the chance to sound off to an attentive audience—the experts in appliance engineering and design.

Starting on a tour of major United States cities in January is a "miracle" kitchen, an eye-popping array of new ideas and appliances to focus our attention on what life in the kitchen might some day be.

Every principle, material and device has passed its practicality tests and could be put into home use sooner or later.

WHAT THE EXPERTS want to determine from our comments and reaction is what we really would like in kitchen planning and products.

When I previewed the kitchen recently, in Miami Beach, Fla., I had an expert guide, William E. Mahaffay, vice president of engineering and research for the Whirlpool-Seeger Corp.

DO YOU LIKE the trend toward clean architectural styling and the use of natural materials? First impression of this kitchen is of light and luxury. Base cabinets in natural rosewood, accented by colored panels, are boosted off the floor on slender steel and brass legs.

Wall cabinets are partially concealed behind fluorescent-lighted translucent vinyl panels decorated with colorful representations of flora and fauna.

A CLOSER LOOK at the razzle-dazzle devices made possible by electronics indicates that it would be possible to make kitchen actively almost completely automatic.

You could, in such a kitchen as this, sit down at the semi-circular planning and control table and push buttons to plan an automatic meal.

You could flip on the TV monitor to see what's doing in the playroom or watch color TV. And you could direct various chores such as dishwashing or floor-scrubbing.

The dishwasher, open on both sides for easy loading, glides to the table at the touch of a button and also takes care of food waste disposal.

THE FLOOR SCRUBBER, incidentally, is a most appealing little gadget. Resembling a tiny space ship, at the push of a button it scoots out of its garage and hurries around the floor scrubbing and vacuuming.

By means of other electronic devices, you could automatically have your knives sharpened, vegetables scrubbed, peeled and sliced, cakes mixed, pots scrubbed, and shortages of staple foods recorded at the grocer's.

Concealed touch controls open drawers and lower wall cabinets.

THE WALL CABINETS, here controlled electrically, could just as easily be manually operated, Mahaffay assured me.

These pull down. The front rises vertically into a valance-like arrangement.

And this concept of cabinet design may well be commercialized in the near future.

A NEW PRINCIPLE of refrigeration used in the kitchen is also feasible for home use in the near future.

Replacing the refrigerator box are refrigerated drawers and cabinets placed at convenient working areas.

These are entirely frost-free

units and refrigeration is "piped cold," which was explained to me as akin to air conditioning at lower temperatures than customary.

COOKING is tended to in various ways. Special electric units set into the countertop of the planning table cook food in special utensils which don't get hot to the touch, nor does the counter.

Roasting and baking are done in the electronic oven, which is recessed in an overhead cabinet and comes down for use.

This is substantially the same oven now in production. A new, electronic broiler is a companion to the oven.

SEPARATED FROM kitchen activities is the laundry area. Here, concealed behind folding rosewood doors, is a combination washer-dryer. A new washing action cleans the clothes with about three gallons of water plus that absorbed by the clothes.

This combination is a brand-new product that's just coming off the assembly lines.

New Year's Eve at The Country Club

A delightful evening is promised those attending the Coneywango Valley Country Club's annual New Year's Eve Ball. In addition to an unusually delectable dinner, dancing will be to the rhythms of George Johnson and His Men of Music.

Teen-Age Play Rooms Require Careful Planning

If you're thinking of fixing up a play room in your home for teen-agers, what you need isn't the advice of an interior decorator but the low-down from a friend whose children have already gone through the teen-age whirl.

From one who has had a room in her house turned into a teen-age canteen, you'll get a lot of practical tips.

Such things as: Be sure to have a telephone extension in the play room. Every teen-ager who comes to your home will make a minimum of three phone calls during an hour's visit and probably receive at least one. So if you want to keep the kids in their hide-out, you've got to give them a telephone.

Have plenty of pillows on the sofa. With teen-agers you never have to worry about adequate seating space, so long as they can toss a pillow on the floor. But make 'em durable, as teen-age boys can't resist tossing pillows around.

FOIBLES OF AWKWARD BOYS

BE sure there are no buttons in the centers for that is an irresistible temptation for pillow twirling, a pastime that is a little rough on sofa pillows even though it does give boys at the awkward age something to do with their hands.

No bare wood for table tops—unless you want rings within rings made from soft drink bottles.

No carpet for several good reasons. Potato chips and corn chips dipped in goo—the teen-agers' favorite snack—are crumbly and hard on carpets. And a bare floor is always ready for dancing.

If the play room is going to be an addition to the house, do everything you can to soundproof it. Teen-agers can play their favorite records over and over for hours and never grow weary of them. But you will.

Talk to your friends who have gone through the play-room stage and you'll get all kinds of practical ideas on how to keep a play room from working you to death.

The Mature Parent

Only Self-Centered Parent Fear's Child's Confidante

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

BECAUSE of 11-year-old Joan, a family feud is developing, says her Grandma. When Joan is crossed at home, she's taken to rushing off to her Aunt Madge, the new wife of her mother's brother. Her mother is angry over the situation and has forbidden her sister-in-law to ever harbor the child in her house again.

Writes Joan's Grandma, "Things have been said which may never be forgotten."

Why are parents in this spot always so anxious to deprive the child of his adult confidante?

Usually, we have grand-sounding reasons for our wish to destroy such friendships. Usually, the real one is our fear that Joan and Aunt Madge are saying critical things about us. The knowledge that our youngster may be exposing our faults to another person is intolerable.

OFTEN, it is this very intolerance of criticism that has driven Joan to take her feelings toward us to someone outside the home.

No parent can afford the wish to appear perfect to his children. We are not perfect; and when we undertake to imagine we are, we require constant admiration to keep us inflated. We can think of nothing but our need to appear a faultless person.

So experiencing a situation like this, we'd be totally self-centered. We'd register only the threat of criticism; our need to destroy it. To its value to Joan, we'd be absolutely blind.

Yet the fact is that it's not only unfortunate Joan has Aunt Madge to run to when she loses touch with her mother; it is also touching.

FOR in seeking the woman who's so closely related to her mother, Joan is seeking her mother, nobody else. To know this is true, however, our minds must be clear, not seething with terror of other people's disapproval.

Only self-centered parents feel outrage when a child makes a confidante of another adult. If the confidante is a family friend or relative, the wise mother is especially relieved. In Aunt Madge, she sees a substitute for herself.

Instead of hating Joan's confidante for the service she's rendering, she is grateful to it as the right solution to the moment's separation. She thinks, "How good it is that this child I love has her aunt to let off the steam to!"

Saar Coal Basin Inhabitants Welcome Return to Germany

By RICHARD O'REGAN

Saarbrücken, (AP)—"Wir kehren heim—We are going home."

So says Hans Eberhard, a coal miner in the Saarland. He is one of the million intensely loyal inhabitants of the 990-square-mile Saar coal basin. The region has been a bone of dispute between France and Germany for 200 years, changing hands periodically.

Three years from now its mines and steel plants will be German, not French-run.

Eberhard lives in a five-room brick house in a miner's colony outside Neunkirchen, a busy steel and coal town hidden almost the year around under a heavy smog and tucked away in the Saar's wooded hills.

"My great-grandfather, my grandfather, my father—they were all miners. They all worked here in the Saar. They all spoke German. That's why we think of ourselves as going home on Jan. 1," Eberhard explains.

Ernst Roehling is another Saarlander who says, "The French, twice in the last 22 years, would have liked to have made us Sarrois, but we are Germans and always will be."

Roehling is the Saar's Henry Ford. He and his family own the Saar's biggest steel mills, producing a million tons a year and employing 14,000 men.

You might consider the Saar coal basin a typically drab and miserable industrial center where housewives wipe soot from window sills three times a day—with soap to keep them clean.

But both Eberhard and Roehling like it. Going back to Germany is a political idea they are supporting at the moment, but they would never think of moving out of the Saar.

For the Saarland—its soil, its industry, its community life—is a family affair, from topmost to bottommost levels.

It is a typically German, patriarchal society with its customs and culture rooted in such concepts. It is not surprising that the Saarlanders voted overwhelmingly a year ago to free themselves from French influence and return to Germany.

Roehling, for example, is far from the modern steel magnate. Imprisoned by the French five years and only recently released, he is back running the Roehling steel mills. He dresses carelessly, wears a green shirt and and walks to his lunch.

Both Eberhard and Roehling are convinced this sort of system provides them with a better social standard than is enjoyed by miners in Germany's Ruhr Valley or other European industrial areas where workers live in hostels. Amid the coal dust, the smoke and the grey mists of the Saar, Eberhard feels himself happier than many men. He has ties to his home, his community and his church (73 per cent of Saarlanders are Catholic).

He drinks beer, not wine. He eats at home, not out. His sons will be miners too. He is rooted to the land and to his German ways.

The reign of the Czars in Russia was ended in 1917 when Nicholas 2nd was overthrown by revolution.

1957 Farm Show Is 40th Anniversary For the Exposition

Harrisburg—The Pennsylvania Farm Show celebrates its fortieth birthday anniversary when the 1957 exposition is held here January 14 through 18.

The event also is the 25th anniversary of the dedication of the original Farm Show building on the outskirts of the city, a sprawling structure which now contains more than 13 acres of floor space, including a coliseum opened in 1939 with unobstructed view seats for 7,639 people.

Suitable observance will mark the double anniversary, according to State Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning, chairman of the nine-man Farm Show Commission.

Growing out of a desire of agricultural leaders to offer a different type of exposition, the first show was held in a farm equipment dealer's building in downtown Harrisburg, January 23-25, 1917.

Under the all-inclusive title of "Pennsylvania Corn, Fruit, Vegetable, Dairy Products and Wool Show—Admission Free," the first organized statewide show attracted thousands of visitors from rural and city areas. It developed from a meeting the previous August in Lancaster of six agricultural leaders of the period.

Only one of the six organizers is still living, Edward K. Hibbsman of State College. In 1917 he was assistant director of agricultural extension at the Pennsylvania State University.

The custom of holding the Farm Show in January dates back 105 years to organization of the State Agricultural Society in January 1851. This society sponsored the first Pennsylvania State Fair in October of that year. It was the forerunner of the State Farm Show but was discontinued when county fairs outgrew the State Fair at the turn of the century.

The State Agricultural Society and later the State Board of Agriculture continued to hold annual meetings each January in Harrisburg during legislative years and in other parts of the State between sessions of the Legislature. Farm organizations in 1907 began bringing farm products exhibits to Harrisburg. The displays grew until need for organization brought about establishment of a State Farm Products Show Committee which still meets each April and October in Harrisburg.

Organizations represented on the first committee included the old State Board of Agriculture, the old Pennsylvania Breeders' and Dairymen's Association, the State Horticultural Association, the Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association and the State Vegetable Growers' Association. Each held a two-day meeting during the first show in 1917.

Today the State Farm Show Committee is made up of three representatives of each of 52 statewide agricultural and allied organizations. They cooperate with the Farm Show Commission which was organized in 1927 to direct the rapidly growing exposition.

Avoid Hard Brow Line

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

THE hard, painted eyebrow is not only aging; it creates an air of unattractive artificiality. If your eyebrows must be sketched in, there's a right way to go at it.

First, pluck your eyebrows to conform as nearly as possible with the right brow shape for you. (Nature sometimes hands out the wrong brow shape; then it's up to you to improve it.) Pluck from below the brow always, and get out all the stragglers.

Now sketch in your new brows with light, quick strokes that copy the actual eyebrow hairs as closely as possible. Never simply draw one hard, continuous line. Use a lighter pencil for the end of the brow and then apply a very light dusting of powder with a swansdown or lamb's wool puff.

THE best time to soak away those rough spots on elbows and heels is when you take your nightly bath. Instead of popping into the tub and out, try to take time to make your bath a leisurely affair at least twice a week.

Follow up the soaking with a good, stiff brush for both elbows and heels and then finish up with a natural pumice stone. Cream both heels and elbows as carefully as you do your hands.

And while you're about it, don't forget a body lotion for your legs. In winter weather, it's especially important to guard against that dry and flaky look.

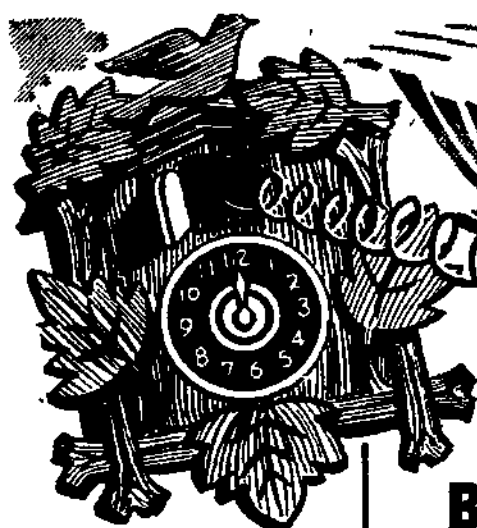

BEST way to guard against a really long stretch of dieting is to get rid of excess pounds when they first show up. If you gain five pounds and show a tendency to keep on going, it's time to call a halt. You need neither a rigid diet nor a long one at this point; you need self-control and a check-up on the small things that add up to many calories.

For instance, cut out desserts, salad dressings and gravies and limit yourself to one pat of butter a day. Watch the extras—the nibbling at parties and between meals. Stay sternly away from candy and take your coffee black and sugarless.

Chances are good that attention to calories at this point will keep you from real dieting later on.

"USING YOUR BANK"
By Dr. George L. Leffler,
Professor of Finance, The Pennsylvania State University

Your bank acts as agent of the Federal Government in servicing Government bonds. In carrying out this function, banks render a number of services for customers. They advise as to the most suitable type of bond for the customer to buy, the most convenient denomination and the various rates of interest paid.

After a customer has decided on his own bond program, the bank will handle the purchasing of the bonds and deliver them to him. Arrangements may be made for a regular purchasing program, if desired. If the bonds are interest-bearing, your bank will arrange for the redemption of the coupons. When the bonds mature, the bank will also handle the redemption of the principal. No charges are made for any of these services.

A safe deposit box is an excellent place to keep your bonds, and most banks offer them for rent. The great majority of U. S. savings bonds issued by the Government are purchased through the country's banks.

STREET OF THE HEROES—The doorway of this house in Budapest is converted to a memorial to the Hungarian Freedom Fighters who died in that street battling the Russian troops. Black cloth over the doorway forms a background for a crucifix, lighted candles and flowers. This photo was brought to Vienna, Austria, by a Hungarian refugee.

Information About The New Federal "Truck Use Tax"

District Director of Internal Revenue, John H. Singler, has called the attention of truck owners to the fact that city streets, State roads, and all other public ways are considered to be public highways for purposes of the new Federal "truck use tax" which went into effect last July 1. Mr. Singler said that this tax applies to the use on the public highways in the United States of highway motor vehicles having a taxable gross weight of more than 26,000 pounds. Thus, he explained, the tax applies in the case of these vehicles even if they are operated solely within a city, town, or other metropolitan area.

The first return of this tax is due by January 31, 1957. To obtain a deduction for the used tax for income tax purposes, in the calendar year 1956, a cash method taxpayer must file his return and pay the tax in full before January 1, 1957. The return should cover vehicles used in July, August, September, October, November or December 1956. Form 2290 is the return form to be used. Copies of the return form and instructions may be obtained from the Pittsburgh office of the Internal Revenue Service.

College Presidents, Doctors, Ministers On "All-America"

New York (AP)—Two college presidents and the vice president of another, two ministers, four prominent physicians and the recently-appointed U. S. ambassador to Japan are among 25 former football players named today to the "silver anniversary All-America" selected by Sports Illustrated magazine.

This new type of all-star team was chosen from the senior football players of 25 years ago who have distinguished themselves in their careers and in community service. The squad was selected by a panel of judges from nominations submitted by 81 colleges and universities.

The college presidents are Willis McD. Tate of Southern Methodist and Wilson H. Elkins of the University of Maryland, who was nominated by Texas. Harvard's choice was Dr. William Barry Wood, All-America quarterback in 1931 who now is vice president of Johns Hopkins University and Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Also representing the medical profession are James Haley, Colorado; Ralph Dougherty, Pittsburgh; Edward M. Winant, Vermont, and John E. Doyle, West Virginia.

The ministers are Roger W. Blanchard, Boston University, and Clem E. Bininger, Centre, Diplo-mats on the team are Douglas MacArthur II, Yale, who is leaving the post as counselor of the Department of State to become U. S. ambassador to Japan, and John W. Tuthill, William and Mary senior economic officer at the U. S. Embassy in Paris.

Veterans News

Questions and Answers
Q—May I get a GI business loan to buy an automobile? I need it to get to and from my place of business.
A—A GI business loan for this purpose would be prohibited by law. Veterans may obtain GI loans for automobiles only if they are essential in carrying on their business.

Q—I forgot to pay my GI insurance premium last month, and my policy lapsed. How may I get it back? I have a term policy.
A—You may reinstate your GI policy by paying two monthly premiums, one for the 31-day grace period during which you were covered and the other for the current month. If you reinstate within three months of the date of lapse, you need merely submit a statement that you are in as good health as you were when the policy lapsed. Otherwise, you will be required to take a physical examination. Also, the policy must be reinstated before its term expires.

Q—I want to train under the Korean GI Bill, but I am not sure what course I would like to take. How do I go about applying for VA vocational counseling?
A—On the application form for Korean GI training, you will find a section that asks whether you want vocational counseling. Simply check that section. VA then will schedule you for vocational counseling.

New Year's Eve Motorists Facing Hazards in Traffic

Harrisburg—State and local traffic law enforcement officers will be out in full force New Year's Eve to prevent the last day of the year from being the worst for automobile accidents, Col. E. J. Henry, Pennsylvania State Police Commissioner, warned today.

"The men who enforce traffic regulation are not out to spoil fun for anyone, but they will be on watch for actions that could lead to accidents," he pointed out.

"Doctors and nurses on duty in hospital emergency wards will be ready to care for persons injured in any type of mishap, but they too would like to see the year-end holiday observed without someone being crippled because of carelessness on the highway."

"Whether you are bound for a gay party or for a church watch-night service, drive and walk sensibly."

"If the roadways and sidewalks are slippery from ice or snow, take it slow. Motorists will do well to keep a safe distance behind other cars, signal turns well in advance, make gradual starts and stops, and respect all traffic signs. Pavement markings may not be visible under snow and ice."

Col. Henry recommended, "Persons who expect to indulge in the use of intoxicants should arrange in advance for safe transportation home. Taxis and buses will help assure a safe home-going for those who have no non-drinking drivers to escort them."

In conclusion, Col. Henry stated "We'd like to wind up the year 1956 without having any year-end holiday celebrants wind up in the morgue" following a traffic accident. He pointed out that in the eight months of March, through October the highway death toll in Pennsylvania has been 1145 against 1153 in the same period of 1955.

MORE NEW PLANES

Allegheny Airlines has purchased one and optioned two additional 40-passenger Martin "Executive" aircraft for the company's operations in the Middle Atlantic Area, Leslie O. Barnes, president of the airline has announced. The additional aircraft, which will bring Allegheny's Martin "Executive" fleet to eight, were secured to provide additional services over the airlines rapidly developing system generally, and to meet anticipated demand over new segments of the company's system. This includes extensions authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Board recently to Detroit, Michigan, and directly between Washington and central Pennsylvania cities through Harrisburg. Allegheny will take delivery of the first of three Martin's in Jan. 1957; the second is to be delivered in the early spring, and the third at a later date to be announced.

A steam powered vehicle was invented by French engineer Nicholas Cugnot in 1770. It was designed to carry only heavy artillery in war, and was a failure. It ran out of steam every fifteen minutes.

Oddities in Pennsylvania News During the Past Year

Many Prize Lulu and Boo-Boos Chronicled in the A. P. Press Dispatches During '56

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

Philadelphia (AP)—Back in July, Pennsylvania along with other parts of the country was put through the paces of a civil defense test. Well ahead of the date, it was publicized that the big exercise would include a mock air attack, resulting in make-believe casualties.

Early on the day of the test seven persons telephoned News Editor John H. Whorric of the Connelville Daily Courier and, allowing for variations in grammar and vocabulary, asked: "Is it true that they're going to kill two million people today?"

The prize paradoxism of mid-summer madness was one of many ulus and boo-boos that got into the news in Pennsylvania in 1956.

Let's start off with babies.

In Pottsville, a man stabbed himself superficially so that he could be in the hospital where his wife just had a baby.

A young Philadelphian, sweating out his wife's first confinement, peered in wonder at his newborn son, then fainted. Still excited after he was revived, he drove his list through a glass phone booth in a hospital corridor, and, fearing the consequences, fled to the hospital roof. Doctors eventually oaked him down, gave him a sedative, and sent him home.

This happened in Pittsburgh: A 7-year-old auto mechanic bundled his wife into their car for a dash to the maternity ward. He shot at a red light and hit a truck. He truck rammed an automobile. Somebody else drove the wife to hospital, but didn't quite make it. The child was born in the car, right in the hospital driveway. The mother was taken to court and fined.

Little later his wife said: "He's taking a week off from his job to st."

What is often called the war of the sexes provided its share of oddities. A woman won a divorce from an Allentown man on her complaint that he was so stingy he never could have hot meals. He told the judge her husband disconnected the electric range in English for the kids was very much on the minds of the faculty of St. Michael's College in Vermont after they received this request from a Philadelphia boy: "I am interested in your college. Please send me some information, some stickers and some pennants."

The college sent information and stickers, but no pennants. Instead, it included a note ending, "For your pennance; some homework with the dictionary."

A Bryn Mawr College sophomore devoted to reptiles, couldn't understand why horrified school authorities wanted to close her dormitory zoo containing two turtles, a foot-long alligator and a scarlet king snake. She said: "It seems hard to believe that everybody doesn't like them."

bank debts, and factory payrolls. Postal receipts were the best since 1953 and employee hours since 1952. Building operations were up from a year ago, but factory employment was unchanged.

HEAVY TAXPAYER

North Carolina is one of the largest payers of federal taxes in the United States, because of the federal tax stamp on each package of cigarets or processed tobacco.

There are 461 million acres of commercial forests in the United States.

MISTAKEN NOTION

That the 'O' before Irish names stands for "of" is a common but mistaken notion. Properly, the 'O' is the Irish word "o" which means "descendant". Thus, O'Neill means "son of Neill". Bison is the true name of the buffalo. It comes from the old German word, wisent.

General Business In State Industry Set High Record

University Park — Climbing 7 per cent from September, general business in leading industrial areas of Pennsylvania reached the highest October level on record.

The Bureau of Business Research at the Pennsylvania State University reported today that the Index of General Business for October stood at 172 as compared to 155 a year ago and 161 in September. The index, which uses the years 1947-49 as 100, is based on bank debits, factory payrolls, and industrial power sales.

Out of 14 important series, only department store sales, which dropped 7 per cent, showed a loss from September to October.

Factory payrolls, steel production, life insurance sales, industrial power sales, and telephones reported all-time high records and new October records were noted for postal receipts, bank debits, and average hourly and weekly earnings in manufacturing.

Carloadings, bituminous coal production, factory hours, and factory employment were the best since 1953 and anthracite coal output since 1952. Hotel receipts were up from a year ago and unemployment for September, the last month for which data was available, was at the lowest level in a number of months.

Compared with a year ago, crude petroleum production and street railway revenue passenger traffic was down from last year. The cost of living reached a new high and department store sales, while down 1 per cent from a year ago, were the second best on record for the month.

The summary for the Warren area follows: New highs for the month were noted for telephones,

Is everybody happy? — you should be 'cause it's one down and just one more to go and we can forget the holidays for a while? The kids have a longer vacation than usual — returning to local schools on January 7 — a few mothers have already sprouted additional gray hairs. In homes where winter sports equipment was received, all ears are turned to the weather reports — they're tired of roller skates in December.

Warren borough chalked up a good record over the Christmas days — no serious accidents — everything remained fairly routine and quiet. Let's hope the same will be true after the New Year has been appropriately ushered in.

Although, right at the moment, it's difficult to even think about food — there are lots of folks planning to have friends on New Year's Eve. No use counting on the Christmas candy or other tid bit assortment — they'll be demolished before next Monday night. You'll want more crisp cheese crackers (Party Pops are delicious) — candy fresh as new mown hay will be nice to have around and your guests will enjoy a tasty assortment of mixed salted nuts. A successful get-together should be recorded for posterity, so be sure to have film and flash bulbs for your favorite camera — if you don't own a camera, part with some of the Christmas greenbacks and "live it up!"

Accessories for a wonderful New Year's Eve — unusual tasty treats; fresh Whitman candy assortments and crunchy mixed nuts are featured now at The Warren Drug Store. Plan your party now — and plan to serve the best.

Who ever termed it "the common cold" — the variety passing among us this year is not at all common. It has unusually miserable features and is so persistent. When you're not coughing, you blow — you wheeze and sneeze. You feel better one day and lousy the next! But it's a good conversation piece — almost everyone has or has had one.

If you saved your celebration to be on hand when 1957 arrives and Stop at The Style Shop and do something about your dinner clothes for New Year's Eve. Start the year right — be the best dressed man in sight. For the finest in menswear you can depend on The Style Shop, your Warren haberdashery headquarters.

Seems funny today — but we just have to say — "See you next year!" — and we hope we do, so please drive carefully.

Philadelphia (P) — A jury debating morals charges against a 41-year-old former disc jockey deadlocked here early today and was dismissed. Steven Allison of Philadelphia, who was suspended from his late night radio show last Oct. 24, was released in $5,000 bail by Judge Peter F. Hagan. The jury of six men and six women deliberated three hours last night, then told the court it was hopelessly deadlocked. both of the Bronx, N. Y. The 19 member grand jury returned the true bill after a two hour session. U. S. District Judge Rabe F. Marsh accepted the indictment and issued bench warrants for the arrest of the four.

Pittsburgh, (P) — A former Gulf Oil Corp. geologist and one of four men arrested in New York were summoned to testify today as a federal grand jury opened its probe into the alleged theft of valuable oil exploration maps from Gulf's Pittsburgh offices.

The onetime employee is Thomas W. B. Smith, 47, of Pittsburgh. He left Gulf last January. Smith said he had been employed by Gulf for 25 years before leaving. He now is a salesman for a Pittsburgh radio-television concern.

The other witness, who was arrested by the FBI in New York Dec. 18, is John Marvin Lelvia, 34, of Orange, Tex. U. S. Atty. D. Malcolm Anderson described them as cooperative witnesses.

FBI agents Joseph W. Sargis of the New York office, and Louis Giovannetti of Pittsburgh, were among the first witnesses. Their testimony was brief.

The case came to light Dec. 18 when U. S. Atty. Malcolm Anderson made a public announcement and FBI agents arrested three men in New York.

Expect Canal

The bulk of Wheeler's existing fleet is collected around the northern end of the canal.

The U. N. fleet consists of vessels hired on contract from salvage firms of several neutral nations and will eventually consist of 20 to 30 craft. Some of these are not expected to arrive on the scene until Jan. 11.

The Wheeler announcement that clearing operations would now begin was the first authoritative word of an agreement by Egypt to let the work proceed. Earlier, U. N. spokesmen in Cairo said no information had been received of any agreement.

County Man Injured In Crash In January Dies

Another death was added to the list of fatal accidents in Warren county during 1956 when James Edwards, 28, of Pittsfield, died early this afternoon presumably from injuries received last January 28th, when a car which he was driving crashed into a tree at Pittsfield.

He was brought to the Warren General Hospital at the time in an unconscious condition, in which state he remained for several months, following his removal to Hamot Hospital in Erie.

At the time it was reported he had sustained a fractured skull and multiple body injuries.

Mr. Edwards was a native of Warren county and is survived by his wife and a number of brothers and sisters.

Annual Warning

on borough streets that night for those out of condition.

Chicago (P) — Traffic deaths, which soared to an all-time high for any holiday during the Christmas period may also hit a record toll during the long New Year weekend.

Deaths on the nation's highways from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday to midnight Tuesday, the National Safety Council estimates may total 490. That would be 83 more than the record of 407 deaths for a New Year period, established during a four-day span in 1952-53.

The 490 traffic toll was termed possible by the council "unless there is a sharp improvement in the driving habits that shocked the nation over Christmas." It said the toll for a similar nonholiday period at this time of year would be 420.

In the four-day Christmas period, traffic fatalities totaled 706, the first time during any holiday period in U. S. history they climbed above 700. The council's pre-Christmas estimate was 660.

Traffic Safety Campaign Cuts Penn'a Fatalities

Harrisburg (P) — Gov. Leader credits the success of a special $25,000 traffic safety advertising program and outstanding enforcement for Pennsylvania's Christmas holiday highway record of 19 deaths.

The State Highway Safety Bureau is continuing a special, intensive safety drive in newspapers and on radio and TV stations. It is designed to keep New Year's holiday highway fatalities to a minimum.

"I urge the state's newspapers, radio and television stations to repeat their outstanding public service performance of Christmas for New Year holiday driving." the governor said yesterday in a statement.

TOT TRAFFIC VICTIM

Pittsburgh (P) — Mary Jackmeyer, 6, of suburban Wilkinsburg, who was struck by an auto last Monday, died yesterday in a hospital.

Wool Jersey Teams With Chiffon

Wool jersey gets together with chiffon to make pretty, soft and informal dresses for mid-winter festivities. The ladylike look is evident (left) in high-waisted dresses with neat, flat bow marking the waistline and a stemlike chiffon skirt in the new longer length for late-day wear. The color is pevenche blue.

Classic tailored shirt top in used for belted dress (center) in pale blue with very full chiffon skirt. Bloused top of jersey in a true, brilliant red is worn over full skirt of chiffon (right). The chiffon is repeated in scarf tie at the neckline of the blouse. The blouse may also be worn with a slim jersey skirt.

NEW YORK.—(NEA)—For any girl who's ever frozen to death (well, almost) trying to look pretty on a winter evening, the wedding of wool jersey and chiffon is a happy event.

Drifty dresses are all very well for looking ethereal and feeling a cold coming on. While it's true that most American apartments and homes are overheated, there's always someone at a dinner or party who opens a window on one's lightly swathed back in the interests of fresh air.

Chiffon and wool jersey, in combination, allow a girl to look fragile while feeling toasty warm. Designers have used the two fabrics in one color or in contrasting color combinations for dresses that are ideal for small dinner parties. Ideal, in fact, for any dressy evening not requiring a really formal gown.

Some of these are cut in the new longer length for late-day wear. These offer the slim and stem-like paneled look rather than swirling yards of chiffon. And they're worn with elegant little satin pumps that revive the romanticism of another era.

Tel Aviv, (P) — Israel officially opened a naval base today at the Gulf of Aquaba port of Eilat, on the southern tip of the country.

New York, (P) — The stock market moved narrowly higher in early trading today. Turnover was fairly active.

Heidelberg, Germany, (P) — The Nike, a supersonic antiaircraft guided missile, may be the next weapon to boost the punch of the 250,000-man U. S. army in Europe.

Harrisburg, (P) — The Pennsylvania Automotive Assn. today renewed its opposition to taxing the trade-in value of automobiles. The organization said the levy would hit "the little guy"—those in the low income group who must depend on an automobile to earn a livelihood.

Three Teenage Girls Are Killed in Jersey Crash

Newark, N. Y., (P) — Three teenage girls were killed last night when police said an automobile crashed into the side of a moving Pennsylvania Railroad train at a crossing here.

Two other persons were injured, one critically.

The dead were identified by police as Lois Allen, 17, and Betty Jane Day, 18, both of Lyons, N. Y., and Linda Lou Barney, 18, of Brackney, Pa.

Douglas Martin, 17, of Newark, was reported in critical condition. Garry Allen Palmer, 22, of Newark, identified by police as the driver, was reported in good condition.

Claim Filed on 599,040 Acres of Alaskan Land

Fairbanks, Alaska (P) — Paul G. Benedum of Pittsburgh and five other persons have filed claims on 599,040 acres of land believed to contain oil and gas deposits.

Benedum is a nephew of Michael Benedum, famed oilman known as "the greatest wildcatter of them all." He is affiliated with his uncle in vast oil holdings and explorations throughout the world.

The filings yesterday cost $158,570 in fees and are believed to be the largest ever filed in Alaska at one time. The land involved is about 220 miles due west of Fairbanks.

Geological parties are to survey the land next summer and that drilling will begin not later than Nov. 15, 1957.

Defense Department Cuts Its Monthly Draft Quota

Washington, (P) — The Defense Department today cut its monthly draft quota, asking for 14,000 men during February. This compares with 17,000 for each of the last four months.

The announcement said "the lower, short-month February goal reflects an adjustment for larger manpower gains in January and February, traditionally months of high enlistments in both the active and reserve military forces."

All of the February draft quota will be for the Army.

It will bring the total of draftees called under the peacetime draft law to 2,160,430.

NEHRU ON WAY HOME

London, (P) — Prime Minister Nehru of India flew to Dusseldorf today en route home. He will confer with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. A spokesman for the Indian high commissioner's office said Nehru did not plan to meet with Egyptian President Nasser. There had been speculation he might do so while on his way to New Delhi.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED

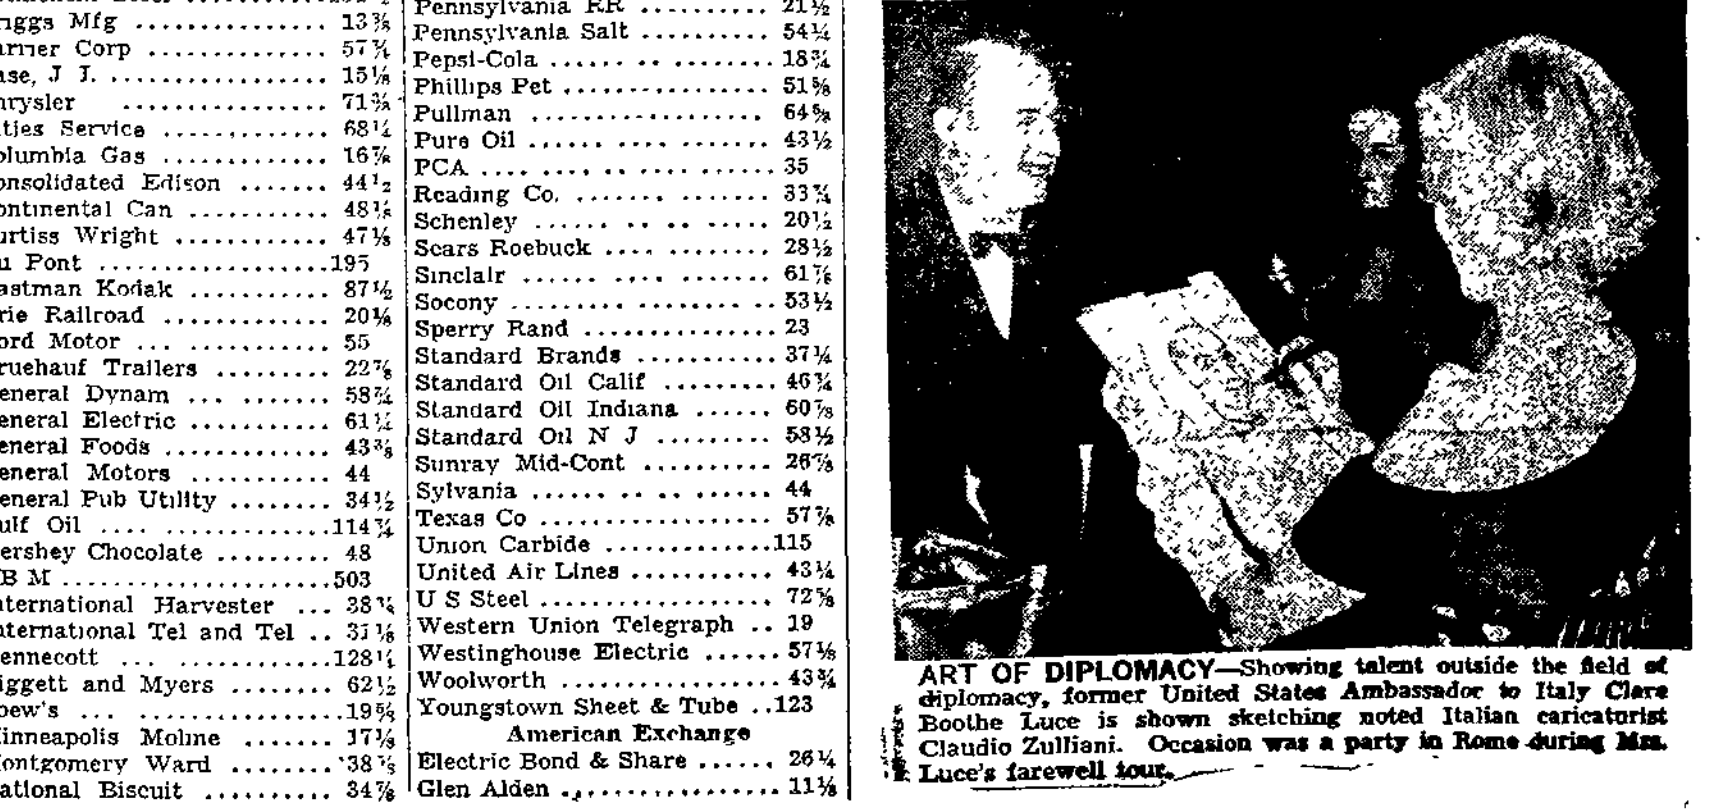

Atlantic City, N. J. (P) — Mary Cummings, about 26, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was killed last night when she stepped off a dividing island on Absecon Boulevard into the path of an auto. Police said the driver was Pvt. Robert M. Asch, 22, of Lancaster, Pa., on leave while en route from Ft. Devens, Mass., to The Presidio, San Francisco.

CHRISTMAS SEAL PARADE...

The Christmas Seal parade of volunteers against tuberculosis enters its 50th year. Great progress has been made, and the parade will go on until TB has been completely defeated.

Jayhawks Come Within Point Of Providing Spectacular Upset

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press
Kansas and Whit (The Stilt) Chamberlain are human, after all. The Jayhawks, rated No. 1 nationally, just managed to escape being victims of the biggest upset of the campaign last night. It took a field goal by Gene Ertan in the last six seconds to give them a 68-57 victory over Iowa State in the opening round of the Big Seven tournament.

What's more, Chamberlain, who had averaged 35.5 points a game, scored only 12 as Iowa State used a three-man see-saw defense against the seven-foot center. The Stilt had only two points, both on free throws, in the second half. The victory was unbeaten Kansas' seventh. Iowa State is now 6-1.

Rosewall and Hoad Succeed in Winning Cup For Australia

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Adelaide, Australia, (P)—Stunned and staggered at the outset, Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad pulled themselves together to win the Davis Cup for Australia today by defeating a U. S. "pickup" team of Vic Seixas and Sam Giammalva 1-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4.

The doubles victory gave the Aussies a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five competition and assures the coveted cup—symbol of world tennis supremacy—staying Down Under another year. Tomorrow's two final single matches will be nothing more than exhibitions.

Giammalva will meet Rosewall in the first match with Seixas meeting Hoad in the second. Bill Talbert, U. S. team captain, substituted Giammalva for Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif. in view of his good play in the doubles.

The capacity crowd of 18,000 at the War Memorial Stadium set in shocked horror during the first set. They could hardly believe they were watching Rosewall and Hoad, who between them hold every major singles title in the world, and together are the Wimbledon, U. S. and Australian doubles champions.

Seixas, the handsome 33-year-old Philadelphia, and Giammalva, an emotional 22-year-old University of Texas student from Houston, who never had played in a Challenge Round before, ran the Aussies all over the court. Seixas won his first service at love.

The Aussies made the big move in the 11th game and broke Giammalva. That was the break of the match, because they held their own in the 12th and won the set.

Talbert's boys fought to 4-all in the final set, but the handwriting was on the wall. Seixas was having trouble getting his service in and dropped two deliveries. Giammalva, apparently on instructions from Talbert, began trying to get his first service in play instead of blasting it.

Highly touted North Carolina also hits the tournament trail tonight as the Dixie Classic opens in Raleigh, N. C. The Tar Heels, unbeaten in eight starts, go up against darkhorse Utah in the second game of a night twin-bill. West Virginia, No. 4, faces Duke in the opener. An afternoon double-header pits Wake Forest against DePaul and Iowa against North Carolina State.

Thus far, form in the tournaments has been knocked flat. Yesterday's ECAC competition, for example, resulted in Brigham Young, Ohio State, Manhattan and Notre Dame advancing to the semifinals. The first three teams were underdogs.

Brigham Young trounced St. John's of Brooklyn 89-75 and Ohio State beat Temple 64-63 in the afternoon and the night twin-bill at the Garden saw Manhattan wall-nip Niagara 95-79 and Notre Dame nip New York University 72-71.

The victories by Notre Dame and Ohio State were notched in thrilling fashion. Bob Devine's lay-up as the final buzzer sounded won for the Irish, who trailed by eight points with six minutes left to play. Ohio State broke a 61-61 tie with Temple on two free throws by Jim Laughlin and another by Frank Howard.

Brigham Young, after blowing a 12-0 lead, breezed in against the Brooklyn Redmen as did Manhattan against Niagara.

Bears and Giants Tread Different Paths to the Title

New York (P)—It was beginning to appear today that the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants are treading two different paths toward the National Football League title game here Sunday.

The Bears worked on the field eight consecutive days after they clinched the Western Division title with their triumph over the Detroit Lions.

The had a respite Christmas Day, but were right back at the contact work again yesterday. There even is talk of the Bears being overtrained around the league.

But Coach Paddy Driscoll said that he has detected no signs of them going stale. In fact, he said he would work them out again today, followed by a lighter session tomorrow, before leaving Chicago.

The Giants, on the other hand, have been taking things easy. Coach Jim Lee Howell gave the team three days off after winning the Eastern title on Dec. 15. Then the players had a free weekend and two more days off this week.

Talbert's boys fought to 4-all in the final set, but the handwriting was on the wall. Seixas was having trouble getting his service in and dropped two deliveries. Giammalva, apparently on instructions from Talbert, began trying to get his first service in play instead of blasting it.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Jim Lee Howell sat at a desk in the New York Giants' offices on 42nd Street and insisted there was no reason to get excited. "We'll just go over this methodically," he said. "We'll have game movies of the Bears by tomorrow and we'll have movies of our own game with Philadelphia and we'll start looking at them at 10 in the morning. We don't run around better-skillet."

Howell, who coaches the Giants, was straightening out a surprised visitor who wanted to know why the players weren't out on the Yankee Stadium field for a practice session the minute the sun came out.

With the Bears the opponent as the New Yorkers enter their first pro championship play-off game, Dec. 30, since 1946, it seemed strange for the head coach to be sitting in the team's business office, the players to be scattered at their homes—and, in general, nothing going on.

THE VISITOR was further shocked to learn the Giants are taking off four full days for the Christmas holiday. "What are you trying to do, forget about the game?" "Look," he smiled, "we've been at this all season. I don't care how much time we put in—we're not going to change a professional championship team in two weeks. They know their stuff. And they'll be in shape for the game."

So, instead of a lot of all-day practices and all-night study sessions, the Giants are getting ready for Harlon Hill, Rick Casares and the rest of the Bears in what seems a leisurely way.

For example, Howell will hold no night meetings with his coaches. They get together at 10 and work through until about four, taking the squad on the field for a good part of the time.

THEN AT NIGHT, Jim Lee goes home to his house at Englewood, N.J., assistant Vince Lombardi catches a commuters' train to Fair Haven and Ed Kolman and the rest of the coaching staff do the same. After dinner, Jim snaps on his movie projector and goes over movies of both the Giants and Bears in action. Here and there he'll spot something. But it does not lead to a hurried phone call to anybody else on the staff.

Howell, Lombardi, Kolman et al watch the movies for only certain things.

The next morning, they turn up in the dressing room at Yankee Stadium and go over their notes.

Then they'll take over the players and hold a blackboard and movie session that is more on the level of a college class than a football team getting ready for the championship game.

THE GIANTS WERE TIRED, 17-17, by the Bears back in November with Harlon Hill doing all the damage via a couple of eye-popping catches.

But even for this dangerous gent, the Giants don't lose sleep. "We thought we had him in check last time," Howell says. "But he turned around and ruined us. We had him covered (the way we know how to handle him). I can't see where we'll have anything so radically different this time. We'll just hope he doesn't catch any passes that hit our men like that last one against us."

Howell, then, excused himself, he was going out to lunch.

Brookville Nips Butler In Holiday Tournament

Oil City (P)—Jack Hall sank a field goal with two seconds left as Brookville High School upset top-seeded Butler 50-49 last night in the opening round of the second annual Derrick Holiday Basketball tournament at nearby Cranberry.

Cranberry, paced by Bob Foggan with 26 points, eliminated defending champion Saegertown 73-59.

Brookville's victory qualified it for Class A honors to be decided tomorrow night. Cranberry advanced to the final round in Class B, also to be decided tomorrow night.

Pleasantville and St. Joseph of Oil City are paired tonight in Class B. Oil City and Titusville, Class A entries, will play in the second half of tonight's double-header.

It's Methodical Study as Giants Prepare for Bears

North Defeats South 17 to 7 In Shrine's All-State Game

By BEN FUNK
Miami, Fla. (P)—The North defeated the South 17-7 in the Shrine's Annual College All-Star football game last night, but you can't convince die-hard Rebels that the South didn't really come out on top.

Tommy McDonald, the wonderful All-America halfback from Oklahoma, and his teammate, quarterback Jimmy Harris, were big guns in a North attack that gave the Yankees only their second win in the nine-year-old series.

The North was allowed to make this raid below the Mason-Dixon line in the hope that players from National Champion Oklahoma would strengthen the Yankees and balance the competition in a series which has been dominated in the past by the Rebels.

The move was successful, but you can bet that next year the South will be clamoring to reclaim Oklahoma.

McDonald's running and passing highlighted a game in which the slick Sooner maintained his record of never having played on a losing college team. He was a star of three straight unbeaten Oklahoma clubs.

Harris, a signal-caller by trade who was shifted to fullback in the All-Star contest, and Len Dawson of Purdue, the big ten passing champion, were other standouts in the north attack.

Pitt and Georgia Polishing Off For Gator Bowl Contest

Jacksonville, Fla. (P)—Johnny Michelosen and Bobby Dodd, who learned their football under two of the nation's leading single wing coaches, today put the final touches to the Split-T attacks of their Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech teams that meet in the Gator Bowl game Saturday.

Michelosen's Pitt team arrived yesterday. Dodd's team was due in this morning.

Michelosen said the only player of the 42 man Pitt squad who may not play because of injury is Corky Cost, a halfback who had an appendectomy Thanksgiving Day.

Corny Salvatera, quarterback who led the Panthers in rushing and passing this season, is recovered from a leg injury that hampered his running in the 14-7 upset of Miami early this month.

Michelosen said he probably will substitute by individuals and small groups rather than by full teams. He used the full team substitution system on a hot day against Miami but usually keeps his key men in the lineup most of the game.

Lions Coach Signs a New Contract for $30,000 Year

Detroit (P)—Detroit Lions football coach Raymond Biddy Parker looked like a Texas oil man who had just capped a gusher.

Parker's well will bring in $30,000 a year for the next two years in the form of a new contract with the National Football League club. It was capped yesterday when the Lions' 15-man board of directors finally decided to offer a two-year pact to the 43-year-old Texan instead of sticking to the one-year contract Parker turned down last week.

Lions President Edwin J. Anderson said the reason Parker had not been offered a two-year agreement last week was a "misunderstanding between Buddy and myself."

First Annual Jimtown Tourney Ends Friday

A clash Friday night between the Friendly Grill Collegiate All-Stars and Oil City Y-men will decide the First Annual Jamestown YMCA Christmas Basketball Tournament on Friday night.

Grillmen vanquished the Jamestown Y Varsity last night, 91-61, to move into title contention while Oil City blasted Art Metal Metalites, 90-61.

The two losing teams of last night will pair off at 7:30 Friday in a preliminary go for third-place honors.

Social Security Information Of Interest to Farm People

Many local farm people will be affected by the 1956 amendments to the Social Security law. Requirements for gaining social security credit will change for farm operators and farm employees in 1957, according to Thomas A. Larklin, Field Representative of the local District Office.

A new optional method for reporting farm self-employment income will be available after Dec. 31, 1956. This new option may be used by farmers reporting their 1956 income. Farmers whose gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1800 may count as net earnings from self-employment either their actual net earnings of 2-3 of their gross farm income. Farmers whose gross income is more than $1800 and whose net earnings are less than $1200 may report either their actual net farm earnings of $1200. In the event the gross income is more than $1800 and the net earnings are $1200 or more, the actual amount of net farm earnings must be reported. The optional method of reporting farm self-employment income for 1956 permits this choice even if a farm partnership is involved and regardless of whether a cash or accrual basis is used for accounting purposes.

Farm land owners who take part in the management or production of crops after 1955 may count this income towards future social security benefits. The decision concerning social security coverage for land owners will be made in each individual case.
